

JOIN WALHILL FARM FOR THE 2014 BACON, BLUES, AND BREW MUSIC AND ARTS FESTIVAL

BATESVILLE – FX DESIGN – Walhill Farm is super excited to invite everyone to the annual Bacon, Blues, and Brew Music and Arts Festival to be held August 15th-17th in Batesville, Indiana. The festival will feature a wide variety musical acts and artists, from Grammy winners to local favorites, as well as farm-fresh Walhill food specials and the best local craft beers around.

The Restaurant at Walhill Farm has created a variety of mouth-watering food specials to celebrate the occasion, including sinfully delicious nibbles like bacon on a stick and stick-to-your-ribs offerings like brown sugar pineapple glazed beef and BBQ pork ribs. “Everything we’re offering is made fresh, and most of it has been grown right here on the farm,” says owner Peter Hillenbrand. “We’re really pulling out the stops with this one. You absolutely won’t find a better BLT sandwich in the world.” Top it all off with an ice cold local craft brew, and this event has all the makings of a culinary holiday.

Of course, the true focal point of the weekend will be the music and art. Musical acts will include nationally-recognized names as well as local favorites, including Anders Osborne (blues/rock/folk country), Honey Honey (alternative folk-rock), The Reverend Peyton’s Big Damn Band (country/bluegrass/blues), Leftover Cuties (jazz/blues), and other acts spanning the genres of blues, Americana, folk, country, R&B, bluegrass, and rock and roll. Outside music is free to all. The featured artists will display gorgeous works of sculpture, pottery, woodworking, jewelry, printmaking, photography, blown glass, and more. Admire from afar or bring your favorite piece home!

Come feast and make merry with friendly Batesville crowds and enjoy the sunshine and beauty of Walhill Farm. Walhill Farm invites all attendees to bring blankets and chairs to enjoy the outdoor music acts, or bring your instrument of choice and make your own magic in the Jam Tent. Walhill Farm is also offering limited camping space, so you can really make a weekend of it! We dare you to not have a good time.
